By signing above I understand that although CISD's animals are used to being handled, accidents do happen. Any child touching an animal has the potential to be bitten. Also, any child in the animal science classroom has potential to come into contact with nuts, soy, wheat, animal dander, timothy hay, and other allergens. Your Registration is first-come first-serve. If the date/time you select fills up we will contact you to get you in a different time or return your money. Email confirmation will be sent to confirm camp placement. While past animal science teachers have sent animals home with campers, animals will remain at the school during the break.
